

Issue was whether 100% of the seats could be reserved for the wards of Army personnel. Accordingly, it was held that the said decision of the Government of Delhi allowing Army College of Medical Science to fill 100% of the seats was violative of the basic principle of democratic governance.

Indian Medical Association v. Union of India AIR 2011 SC 2365,