

If a claimant is aware of the violation of his rights and does not claim his remedies, such inaction or conduct tantamounts a waiver of the right. In such cases, the lapse of time and delay are most material and cannot be ignored by the Court.

U.P. State Jal Nigam and Anr. v. Jaswant Singh (2006) 11 SCC 464],