

Objection as to the mode of proof - Must be taken when the document is tendered and before it is marked as an exhibit - It cannot be taken in appeal - Objection as to mode of proof should be taken before a document is admitted and marked as exhibit .

George Rankin, J. in the decision of Privy Council in Gopal Das v. Sri Thakurji, AIR 1943 PC 83