

Objection as to the mode of proof - Objection as to the mode of proof falls within procedural law - Therefore, such objections could be waived

PRINT / DOWNLOAD PDF

Practice and procedure - Objection as to the mode of proof falls within procedural law - Therefore, such objections could be waived - Moreover, objection is to be taken before the document is marked as an exhibit and admitted in Court.

Justice S. H. Kapadia

Dayamathi Bai v. KM Shaffi, (2004) 7 SCC 107

Tags: Admissibility - Evidence, Document marked as exhibit, Objection as to the mode of proof, Practice and Procedure