

Supreme Court held that the Court should be slow to venture into the arena of giving an opinion on the basis of mere comparison, more so when the quality of evidence in respect of specimen signature is not of high standard.

State of Maharashtra and Others v. Sukhdeo Singh (1992) 3 SCC 700