

Words - "and" is used as conjunction - The use of word "or" is clearly distinctive

PRINT / DOWNLOAD PDF

Interpretation - Words - "and", "or" - The word "and" is used as conjunction - The use of word "or" is clearly distinctive - Both the words have been used for different purpose and object. Crawford on Interpretation of Law while dealing with the subject "disjunctive" and "conjunctive" words with regard to criminal statute made following statement:- ".....The Court should be extremely reluctant in a criminal statute to substitute disjunctive words for conjunctive words, and vice versa, if such action adversely affects the accused."- IPC, Section 364A.

2021 SCeJ 934

Tags: 21_JUL.1, Difference "and" "or", IPC S. 364A, IPC s. 364A - Ingredients of, IPC S. 364A - Kidnapping with ransom